MEMORANDUM FOR DISTRIBUTION

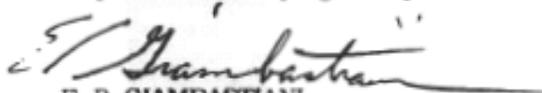

Subject: Net-Enabled Command Capability Increment One Capability
Development Document

1. The Joint Requirements Oversight Council (JROC) approves the Net-Enabled Command Capability (NECC) Increment One Capability Development Document and Extensions, and validates the enclosed key performance parameters and key system attributes. The JROC will maintain approval authority for all key performance parameter changes, delegates capability development document approval authority oversight for changes to key system attributes to the Joint Capabilities Board, and delegates capability development document approval authority for all other non-key performance parameter/non-key system attribute changes to USJFCOM via the Joint Combat Capability Developer organization as outlined in the capability development document. Capability developers will use the NECC Capability Development Document and Extensions as the initial statement of validated capability needs for all phases of development. This program is assigned the Joint Potential Designator of "JROC Interest."

2. USJFCOM, working in concert with the Services and appropriate agencies, will determine program funding requirements for POM 2010 and beyond.

3. Should the Defense Information Systems Agency encounter costs exceeding ten percent of the approved acquisition program baseline or 25 percent of the original program baseline (Program Acquisition Unit Cost/Acquisition Procurement Unit Cost), they shall return to the JROC prior to reprogramming or budgeting additional funding into the program.

4. The JROC recognizes the importance of the NECC program and requests USJFCOM return to the JROC to provide annual program updates.
